All about Fabio:

Fabio is a mature and sociable boy. He has always made friends easily, and has adapted well as he transferred from a public to a private school one year ago. Basketball is a passion of his. He takes the sport seriously and is competitive, trying to help his team win. This year his team won the championship of the region, and went to the national basketball championship. He enjoys visiting new cities and countries. He has participated in a mutual exchange with a family in Sweden. He enjoyed the experience and respected the customs and traditions of another culture. He is open to trying new foods and is excited to improve his English skills on his American exchange program. Would you be willing to add another limb to your family tree and apply to host Fabio?
