All about Yoana:

Yoana likes playing board games, cooking or just doing fun family activities as this bonds everyone together to create meaningful connections. She also likes to challenge herself and board games allows her to think strategically.

She considers herself quiet, polite, but adaptable to any situation. While calm and not much of a social type, Yoana loves hanging out with her friends and family and gets along well with everyone. She is also very organized and likes to help out.

As an avid reader, Yoana reads daily and loves to play video games, but is also open to new try new activities and find new hobbies. She can't wait to share her culture!
